

About the Author

Linda Katmarian grew up in the Midwest and graduated with a Master's Degree in French literature from Illinois State University. In the Nineties, she studied with Sol Stein, a prolific author and playwright and former publisher and editor-in-chief of Stein & Day publishers in New York. More recently, she studied with romance writer Louella Nelson. In 2012, after a long career as a technical writer, she committed herself to writing fiction full time. She lives in Southern California and DREAMING OF LAUGHING HAWK is her debut novel.
